

Board Facilitation

Let us enhance your skill

This innovative programme encourages senior management to challenge their perception of an issue or event as a means of developing their knowledge and understanding of crisis, business continuity and event management.

Practical exercises, based on the current situation, explore how your company could be brought to crisis by third parties or through internal incidents.

When a crisis occurs, it's essential that the Board has a real understanding of its aims. If it doesn't, potential losses become higher.

The programme is highly comprehensive and covers:

- Risk perception to understand how stakeholders can apply pressure
- The Activists' Agenda and how to recognise it to establish worst case scenarios
- Setting response and prevention strategies to minimise impact on reputation, operability and financial and legal liabilities
- Business Continuity

Ultimately, the programme will enable the Board to identify its own methods and how they should be used to stop an event from turning into a crisis.

We provide tailored programmes to meet your organisation's needs.
